considers limiting public comment

DOWNEY - Downey council members, frustrated with racist and offensive language that has become a regular occurrence at their meetings, are considering a proposal that would restrict the number of times members of the public could speak at City Council meetings largely in response to Armando Herman, an outspoken critic who uses the public comment periods at meetings to rant about government policies.

The proposed change is

At Tuesday's city council meeting, Herman's outbursts included use of the N-word and several obscenities

"F--- you, Rick Rodriguez," Herman directed to the mayor.

Rodriguez said changing how public comment is received would help "streamline" meetings, making them more efficient.

One proposal the council is considering would create two public comment periods: one for items being considered by the City Council at that specific meeting, and another for non-agenda

"The public comment period for agenda items...would be placed near the beginning of the City Council agenda after the public hearings," city attorney Yvette Abich Garcia wrote in a report to council members.

Non-agenda public comment would be taken at the tail end of the meeting. The maximum time period for each speaker would remain the same at five minutes.

To make meetings more efficient, Councilman Alex Saab recommended reducing the number of public presentations before each meeting (there were seven Tuesday) or hosting the presentations at an earlier time.

Council members declined to make a decision Tuesday and are expected to revisit the matter at a future meeting.

Herman's hateful language has drawn scorn from the City Council in the past; then-mayor Fernando Vasquez booted Herman from a meeting in 2017, but he and the city reached a $5,000 settlement after Herman threatened to sue for violation of his First Amendment right to free speech.

Dia de los Muertos festival is cancelled

DOWNEY - The annual Dia de los Muertos art festival, which regularly draws thousands of visitors to Downey's civic center, has been cancelled this year due to construction at the library and Downey Theatre.

This year would have marked Downey's seventh consecutive Dia de los Muertos festival, which routinely featured altar displays, art exhibits, artisan demonstrations, and even a film

The Downey City Library is currently closed due to a 15-month renovation project and work is expected to begin later this year on the Downey Theatre's courtyard and patio.

According to the Downey Theatre, the Dia de los Muertos festival attracted 35,000 people annually.

The festival will return in 2020,

29 Downey students qualify for SkillsUSA national competition

The students will travel to Louisville this summer to compete in the national championships.

DOWNEY – Twenty-nine Downey Unified students have advanced to the SkillsUSA national championships where they will compete against the nation's top students in robotics, engineering, and other categories.

Nearly 200 Downey students participated in the SkillsUSA state competition held in Ontario over spring break to compete in areas of technical and soft skills.

"We are proud to announce that 29 of our students will be moving on to the national championship competition that will be occurring this summer in Louisville," announced school board President Nancy Swenson.

"This final outcome is a true testament to the hard work and focus that our teachers and students put in throughout the entire year."

On top of the 29 Downey, Warren and Downey Adult School students who received gold medals in the state competition, 15 earned silver and eight received bronze medals in a variety of hands-on and job-related competitions, making a grand total of 52 medal recipients from

Downey Unified. Gold medalists will compete in the national competition in the following categories: mobile robotics technology, Quiz Bowl, esthetics, information technology,

Downey's Volunteers of the Year shine at celebration

At the coordinating council's banquet, volunteers are celebrated for their contributions to the Downey community.

DOWNEY – More than two dozen community and civic leaders were honored as "Volunteers of the Year" at the Downey Coordinating Council's annual awards ceremony last week.

Honorees were selected by their respective business or non-profit.

Below is a full list of honorees, along with their bios as they appeared in the event's program.

Stacy Brabant (Assistance League of Downey)

The Assistance League is proud to name Stacy Brabant as our Volunteer of the Year. Stacy has been actively involved in AL leadership roles for the past 25 years and currently oversees the management of our 100-year-old Casa de Parlay Johnson home and gardens. She has taken the position to new levels.

Stacy has served as Assisteen's coordinator, collectively, for 12 years, guiding over 50 students per year through programs which include: Glamour Gowns, Christmas Distribution, Teens Helping Teens, Story Time Festival, Operation School Bell, Christmas Caroling at Rancho Los Amigos Rehabilitation Center, Second Tyme Around Shoppe, Spring Tea and Fashion Show, Garden Day, and Self-Improvement Day.

Congratulations to Stacy on being our Volunteer of the Year.

Luis Cervantes (Courage Forward)

Luis Cervantes, father of four, served four years active duty in the United States Marine Corp, including three combat deployments.

After his discharge, he rejoined the military in 2011, serving six years in the Army reserves. In 2017, he joined Courage Forward.

Luis is one of those rare individuals who cares more for others than himself. As part of his volunteer duties, Luis visits patients at the Long Beach VA, and assists veterans with their claims and benefits. Luis is an advocate for all veterans who need help with appointments or any other issues at the hospital or in the community. He speaks with young veterans who need guidance or help when they leave the service.

Luis is proud to serve and make this place just "a little better."

Fausto Rojas and Theresa Espinoza (Downey City Library)

The Downey City Library honorees this year are a mother and son duo who both believe strongly in building up their community through volunteerism.

Both have been volunteering at the library since 2012. Fausto Rojas has provided assistance with the summer reading program, and assisted teachers in our reading classes.

His mother, Theresa, is a first-grade teacher who takes time after her own work day to come to the library to read to the community. Theresa is also a summer camp reading teacher, and she plans to continue volunteering for the library this summer after Fausto goes to Congratulations, Fausto and Theresa.

Cleola Brown (Downey Coordinating Council)

Cleola has had many leadership roles in her numerous years being an active member in the Downey Coordinating Council.

Holding title as President for years 2013-15, Cleola has served for many years as vice president, secretary or treasurer – stepping up when needed to complete any board she is involved with. In 2017, Cleola was selected Woman of the Year by the American Business Women's Association

She is a valuable volunteer – acting as hospitality person for the monthly Downey Coordinating Council luncheons. You can tell she enjoys helping and she is appreciated by all.

Rose Schneeberger (Downey Kiwanis Club)

Rose Schneeberger has been a member of Kiwanis International since 1988, and of the Downey Kiwanis Club since 1999, serving on the board, and in recent years as treasurer and president.

Demonstrating a profound commitment to serving children, Rose helped the Downey club raise $120,000 to inoculate young girls and women of child-bearing age in underdeveloped countries against maternal neonatal tetanus. Most recently, Rose organized a joint effort between her church and her club to raise money for legal representation for children separated from their asylum-seeking parents at the U.S./Mexico border.

In 2012, Rose received the Distinguished Service Award from Downey Kiwanis and in 2018 Rose was named Kiwanian of the Year.

Maria Fernandez (Downey Lions Club)

Part of the mission of Lions Clubs International is to empower volunteers to serve their communities, meet humanitarian needs, and encourage peace. This year's honoree is Maria Fernandez.

She is a charter member of the Downey Lions Club and has been instrumental to the success of our service club from its inception in 2010. Through her strong leadership and work ethic, she has devoted countless hours to help organize events in order to ensure that important service projects are fulfilled.

Maria exemplifies the mission of Lions Clubs International by always empowering others through her devotion, kindness and generosity.

Eneyda Miranda (Friends of the Downey City Library)

Eneyda Miranda is our 2018 volunteer honoree.

She started by working in the back room at the library, sorting all donations and working to shelve them in the store since September 2016. When a bookstore opening was available in 2017, she added to her volunteer time.

In 2018, Eneyda covered 24 bookstore shifts for volunteers who took time off, as well as working her regular weekly shift, volunteering at The Market Place and at a booth for Dia de los Muertos.

Her quiet dedication, and working the many, many extra hours, makes her our 2018 choice.

Moises Rios-Hernandez (Gangs Out of Downey)

Moises Rios-Hernandez is GOOD's honored volunteer this evening. Moises, the owner of Luis' Butcher Shop, gives freely of his resources and time to see that our residents are provided delicious food at GOOD events, including the backpack distribution day at Golden Park, Cops and Kids, National Night Out, and TLC's annual 5K event. Moises also supports set up and clean up, in addition to donating, cooking and serving his delicious offerings.

Moises, a Marine veteran, was deployed twice to Iraq and is now active in Courage Forward, our locally formed and funded veterans' organization. He likes to give back now that he is able. A favorite activity of his is volunteer to mentor the Woodruff Academy students.

Congratulations to Moises on this well-deserved recognition.

Claudia Garcia (TLC Family Resource Center)

Claudia Garcia was part of the team that helped create and launch the TLC Center of the Downey Unified School District.

Claudia was the clerical assistant and covered the front office throughout our first 15 years of service. Her role "behind the scenes" was extremely instrumental to TLC's success today. She is passionate, going above and beyond the job description.

Claudia left TLC when she accepted a position as a counselor at Sussman Middle School three years ago. However, she continues to come weekly to help with our Kids Can Cope grieving program, a group counseling program for students who recently lost a close loved one or have a terminally ill family member.

Thank you, Claudia.

Downey's Volunteers of the Year

Dale Warner (Downey United Methodist Church)

We are pleased to name Dale Warner as the 2019 honoree of the Downey United Methodist Church.

Dale retired after 41 years at Universal Studios, and is now the Lay Leader of our church. Dale is our church's representative to the California-Pacific Annual Conference and is a certified lay servant in Downey and beyond.

He is a member of our sanctuary choir and our bell choir. He often leads public prayer and delivers the Sunday message when asked.

He is both humble and eloquent. His good humor, and willingness to serve when asked, is an example to all. Dale Warner is the latest in a long line of those who have served our church and Downey with love, wisdom and grace.

Thank you, Dale.

Jorge Del Toro (Downey Arts Coalition)

Sculptor and painter Jorge Del Toro has lived in Downey for over 25 years. His artistic talents are surpassed by his generous spirit, and kindness in his heart for animals, the environment, and fellow human beings

Jorge has been part of the Downey Arts Coalition since its inception in 2010, volunteering countless hours to install art exhibits for others to showcase their work. He has led sculpting demonstrations for children and adults, and never turned down a request to help at any art community event, or to donate his work to raise money for the arts.

His award-winning art often highlights environmental awareness and his love for his native land of Chapala, Jalisco, Mexico.

Downey Arts Coalition is very proud to have him as a founding member and a friend.

Joanna Peterson (Downey Chamber of Commerce)

The Downey Chamber of Commerce is pleased to recognize Joanna Peterson as our outstanding volunteer.

Joanna currently serves on the chamber's executive board as our immediate past president. She has served as chamber director for over five years and has held numerous positions, including president.

She is the co-chair for our Christmas Parade committee, co-chair for the Ambassador Volunteer Group, and serves on the organizing committees for the Street Fair and golf tournament.

Joanna has a fulltime job as the marketing coordinator for Gallatin Dental. In her "spare time," Joanna is also a valuable volunteer for the Lions Club, Kiwanis, and Coordinating Council. She is the type of person who cannot say no to any group or individual in need.

Patricia Heineke (The Arc Los Angeles & Orange Counties)

We are proud to honor Patricia Heineke as our Volunteer of the Year.

Pat is a leader and advocate for individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities. She is a nine-time president of The Arc Los Angeles & Orange Counties' board of directors. For the past 20 years, Pat has been The Arc's representative at the state level with The Arc California, and advocates on the federal level as well.

She is a dedicated leader, a mentor to many, and is known for her warm heart. The Arc values her work ethic and dedication to the hundreds of individuals served by our organization.

Pat is a champion and we are so proud and honored to have her serve on our board.

Sal Cervantes (Toastmasters Club 587)

Sal Cervantes has been a member of Toastmasters Club since 2009. During this time he served in every officers role, including president.

He has helped transition the club into the new digital format by welcoming and mentoring the computer savvy generation so they can complement their technical skills with the ability to communicate effectively.

As a child, Sal's family worked up and down the state as farm workers after emigrating from Mexico. He lived in Norwalk during his teenage years and went to college in New York City, where he met his wife, Rosa. They raised a son and two daughters in Downey.

We honor Sal for his outstanding leadership of our club and for being a great role model and mentor in our community.

Zach Rehfeld (Food Finders)

Zech Rehfeld has been a wonderful, dedicated volunteer of Food Finders since June of 2015.

He picks up donated food every Friday at Kaiser Permanente Downey. Each Friday, Zach also delivers 25 bags of food from our Food 4 Kids program to Hart Elementary School so that families have enough to eat over the weekend.

Zach is always available when we need some extra help, like during our post office canned food drive, and collecting food from schools before they go on break.

Zach lives in South Gate and is a published author of a book titled, "10 Short Stories." His current project is building a self-sustaining electric vehicle. Zach spent many years as a silhouette artist at Disneyland.

Maria Marin (FoodHelp)

Our volunteer of the year is Maria Marin.

We met Maria when her daughter needed volunteer hours at Warren High School. At some point, Maria started working independently and apart from her daughter. She spends her time helping our neighbors get their food and is very hands-on. It doesn't matter if she's helping someone or cleaning; it's always done with the ideal attitude – no complaints, no hesitation, and with welcoming kindness.

Maria is quiet and unassuming. She models what we expect from our volunteers – to love our neighbors. When you meet her, the first thing you'll notice is her warmth and joy. She has an infectious smile.

We're so glad she chose FoodHelp to be here she gives her time.

Yvonne Moreno (Downey Federal Credit Union)

Yvonne Moreno has been employed with Downey Federal Credit Union since the spring of 2016.

She played a huge part in the success of our Relay for Life team and helped Team DFCU soar to No. 1 in fundraising for this event.

She's active in activities such as the Arc Walk, decorating the Downey Rose Float, and Bite of Reality, an education activity provided at local high schools. Each year, Yvonne lends major help to the Gangs Out of Downey luncheon by coordinating reservations, payments, registration, and seating.

She also finds time to volunteer at her father's nursing home, Brookdale in Whittier, visiting not only her dad, but also other patients who may not have visitors. And she does everything with a smile on

Bobbi Bruce (Downey Historical Society)

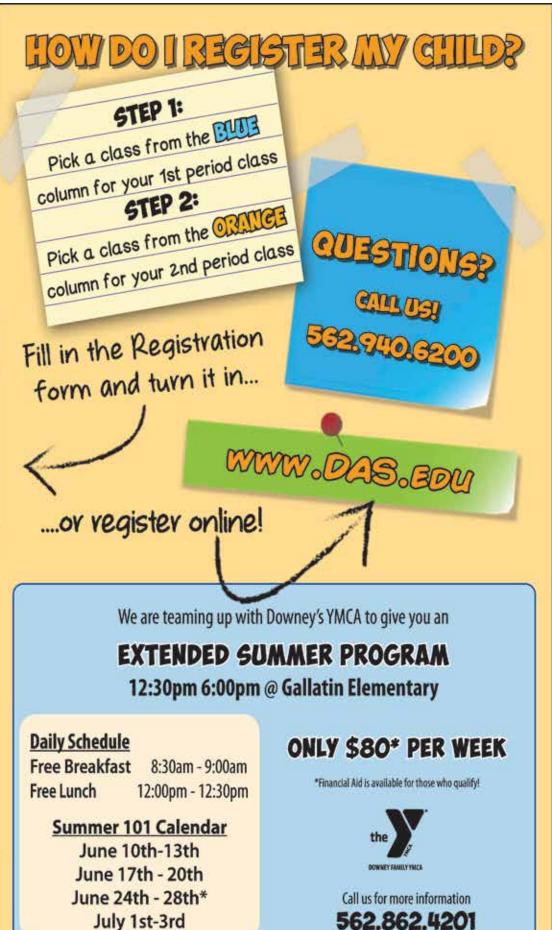

Bobbi Bruce has been an active board member and docent for the Downey Historical Society for over seven years.

She has expanded her contributions to the organization by taking on writing articles under the title, "Things You Didn't Know About Downey," for the weekly Downey Patriot. She is involved in attending meetings for the Downey Cemetery and Sister City organizations.

Her love of history brought her to the history center, and being able to share what she has learned about Downey makes her volunteering exciting and fun. Congratulations, Bobbi!

Jennifer DeKay (Downey Rose Float Association)

Jennifer DeKay has been involved with the Downey Rose Float for many years, dating back to 1990 when she was a princess on our Miss Downey Court.

Jennifer has been a board member for many years and was our president for two years. Not only did she head our organization, she also chaired many of our main fundraisers such as Parade of Winners, Murder Mystery and Casino Night, to name a few.

Jennifer has run the Miss Downey Pageant for the past four years. She also worked with L.A. County and the City of Downey to make sure we have a location to construct our float for years to come.

Larry Lewis (Downey Symphonic Society)

Larry Lewis has been on the board of the Symphonic Society for several decades, including terms as president and vice president.

As our president, Larry's harmonious management style has been to hold back and let everyone enter in discussions and contribute. In addition to his love of music, Larry is a wine connoisseur who generously provides champagne for our receptions; so now we call him the King of Champagne.

Larry also has served on the Downey Family YMCA Board of Managers. A star in his yoga class, Larry can maintain the "tree" position, standing on just one leg.

Larry has been instrumental – Larry loves puns, so the pun is intended – in orchestrating an excellence of musical quality to present to Downey.

The KDB Committee (Keep Downey Beautiful)

6411 Beach Blvd, Buena Park. CA

5 fwy at Beach Blvd

The Keep Downey Beautiful committee, in conjunction with the city of Downey, has initiated a number of successful projects over the past four decades: graffiti removal, tree plantings, litter cleanups,

"waste in place" school program, beautification awards for homes and businesses, recycling, Arbor Day celebrations, adopt-a-street program, and playground painting and installation projects.

The Keep Downey Beautiful committee is a unique group of individuals volunteering their time and energy towards improving the quality of life in Downey. Congratulations and keep up the good work.

Richard Daggett (Polio Survivors Association)

Our honoree this year is Richard Daggett, who has been our president for more than 30 years.

Richard came to Downey as a boy in 1950. He contracted a very severe case of polio in 1953, just after his 13th birthday, and spent nearly three years at Rancho Los Amigos.

In his autobiography, he wrote, "Having had a severe case of polio... certainly made me more sympathetic to the everyday struggles faced by most people. Did polio make me a better person? I hope not. I would like to think that I would have been a good person, no matter what my life experiences included."

Be assured, Richard, your efforts have improved the lives of thousands of people, and encouraged many to follow your example and volunteer their time. You are an inspiration.

Shirlee MacDowell (Woman's Club of Downey)

Shirlee MacDowell has been a member of the Woman's Club of Downey for 59 years, and served on the board for more than a decade.

She has served as our Parliamentarian and taught Parliamentary procedure to many of our members. She has been involved with the selection of scholarship recipients for many years through the Woman's Club Foundation. A scholarship for music is given yearly in her name

Most notably, she has dedicated years of her life to running our club's bingo every Thursday. Under her leadership, the club has raised over $500,000 for Rancho Los Amigos hospital.

She is a leader, mentor, and selfless volunteer dedicated to helping others in this community.

Cecilia Gonez (Soroptimist International of Downey)

Cecilia Gonez has been a member of Soroptimist International of Downey for almost four years.

She is currently the fundraising chair. She also heads the Stop Human Trafficking event. She has worked tirelessly on events so our club can raise the funds we need to give our scholarships to our local high schools.

Cecilia's efforts also help us fund our Dream It Be It program, a mentoring program for high school-age girls, and our Live Your Dream program, which grants an award to a woman who is head of household and returning to school to make a better life for herself and her family.

Congratulations, Cecilia.

Priscilla Flores-Hernandez (Southern California Resource Services for Independent Living)

It is my pleasure to nominate Mrs. Priscilla Flores-Hernandez as our Volunteer of the Year.

Although Mrs. Hernandez is an employee of Southern California Resource Services for Independent Living, her selflessness transcends her work to impact as many lives as she can reach usually going outside her scope of work and unnoticed by most.

This past year, Mrs. Hernandez organized over 50 women with various disabilities to donate their time to those who are experiencing homelessness by putting together care packages with essentials, collecting blankets for the winter, serving meals, assisting at food banks, and working with L.A. County on various community projects.

Mrs. Hernandez is deserving of this year's volunteer award.

Ana Lemus (PTA HELPS)

We are pleased to honor Ana Lemus as our Volunteer of the Year.

Ana has been a dedicated worker at our food pantry for over five years and can always be counted on to "dive in" to whatever is presented. She is passionate about the integrity of the food shelfing room, contributing extra time to this effort.

Ana has been a PTA mom for her entire 13 years in the Downey Unified School District. Elementary school teachers appreciated that Ana continued as a classroom volunteer after her children had been promoted. She also contributes time to Keep Downey Beautiful and the American Red Cross.

Ana wants to make the world a better place and be a good role model for her children. Congratulations, Ana.

Ralph Granata (Rotary Club of Downey)

The Rotary Club of Downey is honored to present Ralph Granata as our Volunteer of the Year.

Ralph became a member of Rotary in 1997. Over the years he has dedicated many hours of "service above self." For many years Ralph has faithfully sat at the check-in table each and every Tuesday – always smiling, welcoming members with kind words and encouragement.

He shares his positive attitude with us, quietly reminding us what a difference a smile and a kind word can make.

Congratulations, Ralph, and thank you for your dedication and service to Rotary for so many years.

Barbara Lamberth, William Medina and Ralph Granata at a Rotary Club of Downey meeting.

Sally Havice to speak to historical society

DOWNEY – Former state Assembly member and Cerritos College professor Sally Havice will be the guest speaker at next Thursday's meeting of the Downey Historical Society.

The May 23 meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. at the Barbara J. Riley Center.

In 1989, Havice won a seat on the ABC Unified Board of Education, where she served until her 1996 election to the California State Assembly. She was reelected to the Legislature in 1998 and 2000.

After being termed out of the state legislature, she returned to her profession as a teacher at Cerritos College.

The meeting is free and open to the public.

Diana Mae Baliscao received Mayor Rick Rodriuez's Servant Heart Award Tuesday in recognition of her year as lieutenant governor of KIWIN's, a high school student serice club.

Downey Police makes its community proud

By Eric Pierce

My heart momentarily stopped as I watched on television.

The man, later identified as 24-year-old Dylan Andres Lindsey of Torrance, slung his body over the side of the speeding gray Prius, firing his long-barreled revolver at the Downey police officers in pursuit.

The Prius eventually rolled to a stop just before the railroad tracks - ironically enough - at Downey Road in Vernon.

Lindsey was the prime suspect in the murder of a Downey liquor store clerk two nights before and police tracked him to Bell Gardens after releasing his image to the media. A side by side comparison of the weapon used by the killer and Lindsey left no doubt it was the same person.

The Prius stopped with a Downey police officer right behind him. The officer exited, shielded himself, and there appeared to be an exchange of gunfire. The Prius' windows shattered under a cloud of white smoke.

This is where my heart paused.

On live TV, it appeared the Downey officer needed to reload. He ran to the passenger side of his SUV patrol vehicle, but the door was locked. He was vulnerable.

Luckily, at that exact moment, another police officer – this one on a motorcycle – arrived at the scene, providing cover as the Downey police officer reloaded his firearm. Soon, other officers from various agencies joined the shootout and Lindsey was heavily outnumbered and outgunned.

Authorities say Lindsey suffered at least two gunshot wounds, one of which was likely self-inflicted. Unfortunately, he won't face the consequences of his actions, as he succomed to his injuries Thursday morning.

After Lindsey was taken into custody and we were assured no innocent people were seriously injured in the chase and standoff, I had a few feelings:

One, incredible gratitude to Downey Police. Since the tragic murder of Gurpreet Singh, the department clearly worked 24/7 to solve the case, showing equal parts compassion and resolve. Neighboring cities have grown so accustomed to violent crime that it's become normalized within the community. Thankfully, that's not the case in Downey.

Two, watching the shootout unfold on TV, it was a stark reminder of the dangers Downey police officers place themselves in for the benefit of the community they serve. It was a remarkable gesture of bravery that members of the public don't often get to

The pursuit, standoff and ultimate apprehension of Dylan Lindsey was seen live across the country and even around the world. Downey Police displayed poise and unbelievable professionalism.

Downey should be proud.

Congressional qualifications

Dear Editor:

During a recent trip to the Chesapeake Bay area, I had the privilege of visiting the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland.

What an eye-opening experience when learning about the select few, bright young men and women daily undergoing rigorous exercise routines, extensive education, and training to qualify physically, mentally and morally to serve as officers in the U.S. Navy. There is definitely no room for stupid or lazy misfits in this academy.

This experience made me reflect on the U.S. Congress. With so much nastiness, mud-slinging, hateful actions, lack of cooperation and absence of honor in our U.S. Congress -- members of which we voted into office to make just laws for our country - how much more important for anyone running for Congress, like the midshipmen, qualify for the position.

These future Congress members should have an extensive BY TERENCE P. JEFFREY education in U.S. government, the constitution, and be reminded that our great country was not founded on hate but by Godly principles of love for God and fellowman.

Furthermore, candidates should attend an academy of learning to unite, cooperate, and work for the good of all Americans. Congress should not be a place of power play, a place to become a millionaire, or a place for corrupt political gain.

Additionally, future Congress members should pass an intelligence test. We have way too many unqualified misfits in

Alabama's terrible law doesn't have to be the future of abortion

BY CARI SIETSTRA

On Tuesday, Alabama lawmakers approved a measure that effectively bans almost all abortions.

Last week, Georgia became the fifth state to ban abortion at six weeks after a last menstrual period, before many people even realize they are pregnant. Its ban goes further than the others, criminalizing doctors and others who help induce abortions, as well as making those who are pregnant, potentially liable for murder if they prompt a pregnancy loss. They could even be liable if they do it in another state.

This is where we are headed on abortion.

Now that two more conservatives have ascended to the Supreme Court, and the Senate has elevated dozens of new right-wing judges to the federal bench, Americans face an increasing likelihood that courts will uphold such de facto bans on abortion, and some states will effectively ban induced pregnancy loss for the first time since 1973.

A return to illegal abortion will not look like a return to the era of coat hangers. More likely, it'll make our system of abortion rights even more lopsided. Even now, while people with resources generally have access to safe, clinic-based abortions, vulnerable people — particularly those in conservative states — may experience forced pregnancy or risk prosecution for pregnancy loss that they may or may not have had a role in causing.

Forced pregnancies and prosecutions are not our only possible future, though. If Americans who believe abortion should be safe and accessible work together, we can significantly reduce the risks inherent in making abortion illegal. We must start by shifting our mind-set away from the perception that a self-managed abortion is a dangerous last resort, to a recognition that medication abortion is an empowering tool that enables us to privately control whether we carry a pregnancy

I have spent years working in places where abortion is always, or almost always, illegal. What I've learned may be surprising. I've come to understand that self-induced abortion with misoprostol, often called miso, can be a safe, reliable way to end an unwanted pregnancy in legally restricted settings.

Experts credit this drug as an important factor in reducing harm and death from unsafe abortions around the globe. Even women in incredibly difficult situations, like those who have fled civil wars in Myanmar, who are at grave risk of sexual violence or who face obstacles to formal medical care, are safely and effectively using that medication to prompt miscarriages.

In Chile, which until last year banned abortion without exception, an all-volunteer safe abortion hotline coaches women on how to use the drug correctly. In El Salvador, similar networks facilitate the successful use of misoprostol, even among those who are illiterate and living on less than $5 a day. Researchers have documented that, with the help of trusted community networks, misoprostol's success rates for early abortion can exceed 90 percent.

This medicine isn't perfect. It works less well alone than in the two-drug combination American clinics use. But it is on the World Health Organization's essential medicines list because, in the developing world, it helps to save the lives of women who might have otherwise bled to death after giving birth. But unlike the other medicine used in clinic-based abortions, it is a regular prescription drug, with many important indications, including ulcer prevention, miscarriage management, induction of labor and the prevention and treatment of post-partum hemorrhage.

Yet the use of this drug can be illegal: A handful of states outlaw self-induced abortion, and other states have found ways to use existing laws to criminalize people who share misoprostol or use it to prompt a miscarriage.

There is little doubt that banning abortion in parts of the country will lead to more home-based abortions with medication. The only question is how much harm will result. We know which Americans are most at risk: those who are poor, young, geographically isolated and minorities. Instead of bemoaning the impending loss of legal abortion while leaving marginalized people alone to take on the risks of selfmanaged pregnancy loss, those of us who are more privileged can organize to reduce the potential harms.

First, we can work to fully decriminalize self-induced abortions. This is an area where all Americans, including pro-life Americans, can work together. The pro-life movement has insisted for decades that women should not be prosecuted for self-abortion, although this position is shifting in the face of safe, cheap abortion medications.

Pro-life people who sincerely care about women and babies should insist that women not be punished for pregnancy losses. Health care providers must also continue to oppose prosecuting women, knowing that doing so will create barriers to seeking treatment and undermine the doctor-patient relationship. Prosecutions for pregnancy loss invariably target the poorest, most marginalized people in society, including those who suffer unintended miscarriages and stillbirths. Working together to decriminalize self-managed abortion will curb

We should also work to expand access to misoprostol. It should remain a prescription drug, and no additional restrictions should be placed on its distribution. We might begin by normalizing the possession and use of the drug. Just as we keep EPI-pens on hand for potential life threatening allergic reactions or emergency contraception for when a condom breaks, we should start seeing it as a prophylactic drug that deserves a place in our medicine cabinets. We should ask our clinicians for prescriptions before we need it.

Those with the means should buy and share misoprostol, so our most vulnerable community members don't have to rely on foreign websites to send them drugs, and so more of us have a stake in any threat to criminalize the possession and use of this drug.

In fact, those of us with social privilege should consider openly carrying or displaying the medicine — something Irish activists did during Ireland's recent successful campaign to legalize abortion.

Imagine if those old coat hanger pins warning against unsafe abortion were replaced by pins with pills on them to show that we have access to this medicine and can help others? Maybe "open carry" isn't only for

And finally, we can strengthen existing abortion funds and referral networks so they can better support the small percentage of people for whom this type of medication doesn't work; they will need follow-up care and clinical abortions in progressive states. The National Network of Abortion Funds will be their lifeline.

I continue to support colleagues fighting to ensure that those who are pregnant can access safe, legal, affordable abortions. But it is clear to me that the future of abortion in the United States will most likely include formal or de facto abortion bans that will result in forced pregnancies, unsafe abortions and the prosecution of miscarriages. With access to misoprostol, we can insulate ourselves against disaster

Workers making Apple iPhones start at $3.15 per hour -- in China

The workers who assemble Apple iPhones make a starting wage of $3.15 per hour in the People's Republic of China, according to The New

"Apple has said the starting pay for workers at the world's biggest iPhone factory, in Zhengzhou, China, is about $3.15 an hour," The Times reported in a story published two weeks ago.

That $3.15 per hour is less than half the U.S. minimum wage of $7.25 per hour.

That means a teenager working part-time serving Big Macs at a McDonald's in the American Midwest earns a far bigger hourly wage than a Chinese adult hired full-time to build iPhones in the People's

A 2018 Congressional Research Service report on the U.S.-China trade relationship summarized Apple's supply chain and its production

"According to Apple Corporation, it used over 200 corporate suppliers with nearly 900 facilities located around the world," said CRS. "The top five largest country sources of these facilities in 2017 were China (358), Japan (137), the United States (64), Taiwan (55) and South Korea (34).

"Apple iPhones are mainly assembled in China by Taiwanese companies (Foxconn and Pegatron) using a number of intermediate goods imported from abroad (or in many cases, intermediates made by foreign firms in China)," said CRS.

In 2016, The New York Times published an in-depth story about the Foxconn facility that assembles iPhones in Zhengzhou.

Running at full tilt, the factory here, owned and operated by Apple's manufacturing partner Foxconn, can produce 500,000 iPhones a day," reported The Times. "Locals now refer to Zhengzhou as 'iPhone

"The local government has proved instrumental, doling out more than $1.5 billion to Foxconn to build large sections of the factory and nearby employee housing," said The Times.

"It helps cover continuing energy and transportation costs for the operation," said The Times. "It recruits workers for the assembly line. It pays bonuses to the factory for meeting export targets. All of it in support of iPhone production."

Is this free enterprise?

Is the Apple iPhone an American product?

Apple's relationship with the United States of America and American workers helps illuminate some trends in the modern American economy.

The United States normalized relations with the People's Republic of China in 1979 and gave it most-favored-nation status the next year, according to CRS. In 1985, the first year for which the Census Bureau has published U.S.-China trade data online, the U.S. ran a $6,000,000 merchandise trade deficit with China. That equaled approximately $13,791,382 in December 2018 dollars (adjusted using the Bureau of Labor Statistics inflation calculator).

In 2018, according to the Census Bureau, the U.S. ran a $419,162,000,000 merchandise trade deficit with China.

That means that in inflation-adjusted dollars, our merchandise trade deficit with China was 30,393 times bigger last year than it was 33 years before then.

Who is winning this competition?

In January 1980, the year we extended most-favored-nation status to the People's Republic of China, there were 19,282,000 Americans employed in manufacturing, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. This January, there were only 12,826,000. As our population and economy grew, we lost 6,456,000 manufacturing jobs.

At the same time America was losing manufacturing jobs, Americans who did not attend college were losing income.

In 1980, according to the Census Bureau Table H-14, American households where the householder was 25 and older and had finished four years of high school but not attended college had a median income of $55,777 in constant 2017 dollars.

In 2017, according to Table H-13, households where the householder was 25 and older and had graduated from high school but not attended college had a median income of $44,970 in constant 2017 dollars.

From 1980 to 2017, the real median income of households headed by Americans who completed high school but did not attend college dropped by $10,807 — or about 19.4 percent.

Those American householders now have little hope of getting a job assembling an iPhone — unless they can somehow get a Chinese work visa and move to Zhengzhou.

And even if they were to do so, as The New York Times reported, they would join a workforce whose wages start at $3.15 per hour.

The U.S. Constitution united the American people in a vast freetrade zone that was coterminous with our international borders. It gave Congress the power to impose duties on foreign imports.

It did not envision creating a free-trade zone between this free republic and a People's Republic.

The rise and fall of Downey's | Patriot nominated for 5 stagecoaches

Things You Didn't Know About Downey

By Bobbi Bruce Downey Historical Society

It appears in sweeping intervals throughout the neighborhood, in either a cloud of dust or barrage of flying mud. The latest mode of modern travel: the stagecoach.

This line, running with a series of horse changes from San Diego to Los Angeles, was then regarded in much the same light that people of torday regard crack streamline trains. Nearest station to the present site of Downey was the town of Gallatin. There the passengers rubbed the bruises caused by riding the lunging vehicle and gave thanks to the gods of the wayfarers. In Gallatin, the Los Angeles bound stage changed horses for the last stretch -- passengers gritted their teeth anew and away the vehicle plunged.

Coaches were of the standard type that saw in their day all of the Old West. With four horses in fair weather and six in foul, they carried six passengers inside and as many on top as could find Even stagecoaches stepped aside with the onward march of progress. When the railway passed through the district, it was of small matter to the town of Gallatin that it passed over a mile away. The entire city was put on skids and in a matter of a few months, was moved to its present location where it became part of the new town of Downey.

Here into the comfort of transportation a softening civilization as provided by a wood-burning locomotive and a string of cars. To the stagecoaches, the throne of speed was too powerful. With their greatest source of revenue gone, the mail contracts awarded to the trains and their old customers flocking to the comfort offered by transportation that belched smoke and cinders and that kept a schedule accurate to the hour.

The stagecoaches saw the handwriting on the wall and folded their tents.

Information in this story was taken from the Downey LiveWire, dated July 21, 1938.

My 15 Minutes of Fame

Short Stories

short story

By Mina Anne Chudilowsky Contributor

I was in the office at the nursery school when the woman came in. I asked if I could help her and she told me that she was Patty Ecker. It was obvious that she expected me to know who she

I said, "Yes?" She explained that she was from the CBS Channel 2 News.

They had been in Long Beach covering a story and they were also working on a story on child care and needed a little more filler. They noticed our facility on the way back. She asked if she could interview me and film some of what the children were doing.

I told her that it would be better to interview my boss who was very articulate and funny. Because they were passing through, she said that I would do. I told her that I'd have to call my boss and get permission. When I called the main office, the boss was out. The secretary — who had absolutely no authority — gave me leave to be filmed. (We had photo permits on almost every child.) A board member called a bit later and said that it was alright.

The cameraman taped the children's activities while Patti talked a little about how she'd handle the interview, what we talked about, etc. The cameraman set up his angles and we sat down out on the porch with the children playing in the background.

She started asking her first question but lowered her voice two or three octaves. I was so surprised by the new voice that I laughed. I told her that her lowered voice startled me and, of course, they edited that part out.

We talked about the nursery school and our part in the community. I said that we were a non-profit nursey school, the second oldest in California, and the longest running. We were established to care for children of single parent families who paid on a sliding scale.

They thanked me, packed up, and left. The only person whom I wanted to see the program was my mother. I called her and she was not home. There were no answering machines at that time, and only a few people had VCR's.

My mother and I weren't one of My mother was playing cards with friends at another house and the TV was on. One of the women said, "Look, there's Mina Anne." My mother looked at the door, and then at the window, and asked, "Where?" The friend pointed to the TV and they watched the interview.

When I hiked Griffith Park on Thursday, one of the regulars came up to me excitedly and said that she had seen the interview and kept saying, "There's ah... there's ah...", not recalling my name.

I heard from others who had seen it, but the most extraordinary encounter I had was at the airport a few weeks later when we took my Aunt Marie and Uncle Sherm there to catch a flight home to Vancouver, B.C. Another waiting passenger came up to me. It was an old friend from high school whom I hadn't seen since college -- years ago. He had also seen the news program and had said, "I know her." We had a brief visit and he and his friend seated themselves by my aunt and uncle and visited all the way to Vancouver.

This was my fifteen minutes of fame.

Summer School

Short Stories

By Anthony R. Kingsley Contributor

In 2006, I was in Hohhot, the capital of Inner Mongolia in the north of China.

On the internet I came across an advertisement for an assistant at a summer school in Dongguan, a city not too far from Guangzhou in southeast China. I took the plane from Hohhot to Guangzhou and then a bus to Dongguan.

When I arrived at the school, I was shown to my living quarters in a dorm. The next day I met my class: three boys and 11 girls, all 11 years of age. I had to eat with them, play games with them, do some educational things such as reading, writing, speaking, finding places on a map, and any other projects I decided were appropriate.

Our first project was to make a banner for our classroom door. Being from California, I decided on the sights of California. Our banner included the Golden Gate Bridge, beaches, the ocean, mountains and traffic, etc. The students worked very hard on the project.

One day I was assigned to take my group to an indoor amusement park. When we got there, I gave them the rules and said we would go back to school if anybody misbehaved. The rules were no loud noise, no running and no leaving the amusement park.

After a little while, Lisa, the smallest in the group, came to me and asked if I would go on a balloon ride with her. I looked at it and said no, I did not like heights and it was scary for me. But Lisa was not going to take no for an answer.

She pleaded with me and said that she had taken the ride before and it was not scary. I still said no – it was too scary for me. I guess a little white lie is ok sometimes.

Finally, she took my hand and said, "Don't worry Tony, l will take care of you." Of course, my heart melted. I broke down and went on the ride with her. And seeing as though she took such good care of me – we went on the ride again. Wow, Lisa was very happy.

Then it came time to finish the summer camp. Lots of parents came for the closing ceremony and to see their beloved children. The ceremony was held outdoors, it was about 33 degrees Celsius (92 degrees Fahrenheit) with high humidity.

Then back to the classroom to tidy up and collect personal belongings. But what about the masterpiece on the door? I decided we should raffle it. I put all the names into a hat and had one of the students pick out a name. MARY!! I gave her the work of art. Everybody clapped and congratulated Mary.

Then Mary broke out crying but she would not tell anyone what the problem was. I asked a Chinese teacher for help who likewise failed to stop the crying.

Then as quickly as she had started, Mary stopped crying. I coaxed her along and finally she said, "Tony, you have done so much for us here, I cannot take the banner. So, please, you take it and share it with your family in America and remember us." Everybody agreed it was a good thing to do.

And as you can see, I still remember Lisa, Mary, Tiger and if not all the names, certainly all the children.

POETRY MATTERS

A Dandelion for My Mother

How I loved those spiky suns, rooted stubborn as childhood in the grass, tough as the farmer's big-headed children—the mats of yellow hair, the bowl-cut fringe. How sturdy they were and how slowly they turned themselves into galaxies, domes of ghost stars barely visible by day, pale cerebrums clinging to life on tough green stems. Like you. Like you, in the end. If you were here, I'd pluck this trembling globe to show how beautiful a thing can be a breath will tear away.

- Jean Nordhaus, Innocence, Ohio State University Press, 2006.

"Time eats everything up," writes Jean Nordhaus, "and that includes our griefs as well as our joys". Nordhaus has been the poetry coordinator for the Folger Shakespeare Library's poetry programs and lives in Washington, DC. Poetry Matters is curated by Lorine Parks

How the dreams get transformed into dollars and then into the scholarships that will unlock the future, is the story of the casino evening.

"We started planning this event about the first of the year," said Linda. "We expect to clear about $20,000, and it goes directly to our Scholarship Fund for next year's awards."

"And we want to thank all our sponsors," said Gallardo de Cisneros, stunning in black and silver with pearls. "It takes everyone together."

Does the club keep track of the young women who win their

"We personally encourage each one to come back and tell us their stories," said Linda. "And we hope someday they will want to give back to the community by becoming Soroptimsts too."

Greeting guests in the Rio Hondo foyer were Ellie Eck and Judy MacDonnald, long-time Soroptimists. Judy was the one with the black feather cockade in her hair: Ellie wore peacock feathers on her blond bob. So

They were joined by another member in flaming red. All of the three assigned bidder's identification numbers, in case bidders wished to be anonymous while competing silently and writing their bids for the prizes.

The Bob Winningham Banquet Room was divided into three areas which flowed into each other. At one end, blackjack tables, poker dealers and a roulette wheel beckoned, and guests sat at Texas Hold 'Em tables, dealers and croupiers ready to start them in play.

In the middle of the room guests wandered through whiteskirted tabled set with the prizebaskets, bid numbers in hand, studying the cellophane-wrapped prizes. At the other extreme silver chafing dishes held dinner treats and several tables were arranged for seating diners.

As for prizes, there were vouchers for wine from Naked Wine, and a Courage Forwardsponsored basket with vouchers for dinner at Lock and Key, and Luis Butcher Shop, always a generous backer of Soroptimist events. Courage Forward is a local support group for veterans with the revolutionary new concept where at-promise youth unite with veterans to find purpose together. It includes resources for housing, job training and job placement.

Club members solicited enticing donations from Downey businesses and farther afield: a stay at an Indian Wells golf and tennis resort, and La Mirada dinner theatre tickets.

Tickets for Angels games, with preferred parking, were up for the evening's highest bidder. The idea of the silent auction is to get items donated that guests may bid on, and actually acquire for less than the going price. It's a win-win situation all around.

A chocoholics dream basket held cacao and cocoa, sea salt toffee with chocolate truffles, giant Hershey bars and other items too mouthwatering to mention. Ocean Breeze, Downey's spa salon, underwrote a package. A Marc Jacobs leather bag was sure to go for less than its $325 face value, and the same for a Kate Spade cream leather creation. A bottle of The Glenlivet single malt scotch sat in majestic splendor.

Prizes to be won instead of money for the gamblers included and a tomato and meat saucefilled pasta. The ambiance was casual but elegant, as diners, gamblers and bargain seekers took turns at the various kinds of table across the room.

SPOTTED AT THE DESSERT

TABLE: First, Bev Mathis, longtime Soroptimst and gold sponsor, was testing the macaroons, and then her husband, Sam, of the Optimist Club and board member of the Rancho Los Amigos National Rehabilitation Center here in Downey, who had already invested in the glittering mocha cream and chocolate swirled rum-flavored mini cupcakes. The to-die-for pastries were brought by Soroptimist Alex

Note to self: next year, forget the dinner line and hit the dessert table, early and often. Example, the sandwiched macaroons were decorated to match the black, gold and silver theme. The "gold' filling was a butterscotch cream.

The other silver-white almond pastry confections were filled with a black mystery substance that proved to be, on second tasting – if once is good, twice is better, right? - a delicate licoriceflavored spread. These goodies were so good they should have been offered as prizes instead of given away as dessert.

Many Soroptimists wear several hats, representing important concerns in Downey. Giggy Perez-Saab, a past president and now elected to the Downey school board, was there with City Councilman husband Alex. And Dorothy Pemberton, in an exotic green velvet fringed shawl, has not only been the face of Soroptimism in Downey for years, but now also heads up PTA Helps, the pantry project that provides emergency food to needy Downey district school families year-round.

"We can always use donations of canned food," said Dorothy.

Pat Heineke had just been named Volunteer of the Year the night before, at the Coordinating Council's banquet in this same room. She has served with the Arc of Los Angeles and Orange Counties. And Donna Lindley, Soroptimist and executive director of the Arc, was a major donor of prizes. Donna wore an impossibly pretty pink headband with black lace and dangling strings of jet, to go with her flapper pearls and black and pink flowered dress.

Chair of the evening event, Cecilia Gonez, almost ready to open the doors. Just run home and put on that dress! A quick costume change, and Cecelia emceed the evening looking like a million 1920 bucks. It was a transformation.

And transformation is just what Soroptimists hope will happen when the dollars they raise turn into scholarships, for inspiring, educating, and empowering women and children in our community. Live Your Dream and Follow Your Dream grants are for high school seniors, and for women who are single heads of households and have turned their lives around.

The occasion? The Soroptimist of Downey's Roaring Twenties Casino Night, guys clad in gangster black with dolls in shimmery flapper dresses. Silver balloon champagne glasses filled with gold and silver bubbles lined the transparent walls between the banqueters and the greenery of the golf course at the Rio Hondo Event Center.

"It's our signature event," said President Linda Haines. Linda is also a past district governor of Soroptimist.

"And it's our biggest fundraiser, added Cecilia, chair for Fun and Fundraising and the organizer of the evening's festivities.

"We make most of our money through our preciousmetal-named sponsors," said Judith Gallardo de Cisneros, president-elect of the club. Platinum sponsors led the way: Heineke Consultation Group, Downey Federal Credit Union and American First Realty and Investments. "Together they make young girls' dreams come Gold sponsors Ace Crane and Tredway, Macerich Developers, Treadway Lumsdaine & Doyle contributed, and also Bev Mathis, L'Abri Management, and Mr. C's Towing. Risher Mortuaries and Matias Flores Law Firm rounded out the list. Their names were prominently featured through the room and on placards on the windows, while table sponsors had their names on large place cards.

Silver donors helped too: Raul and Arlene Lopez, Law Offices of Alex Saab, Claudia Camarena de Leon, Los Amigos Mobile Home Park and Stonewood Apartments, Sam's Roofing Materials, and there were many more.

With these patrons, young girls can be helped to Live Their Dreams. And the Follow Your Dream women who are struggling

Bears' playoff run ends in CIF quarterfinals

An eight-run fifth inning by West Ranch put the game out of reach, ending Warren's season.

By Mark Fetter Staff Writer

DOWNEY – The Warren High School softball team saw their season come to an end last Tuesday afternoon against West Ranch of Valencia, 14-1.

The Bears were eliminated in the quarterfinal round of the C.I.F. Division 3 playoffs after defeating Chino 14-3 on May 2 in their first-round game and by defeating Sierra Canyon on May 7 in their second-round game.

Warren finished their season with an overall record of 15-15 and a San Gabriel Valley League record of 6-4. The Bears finished in third place in league play behind eventual league champion Gahr (10-0) and cross-town rival Downey (8-2), respectively.

In the Warren/West Ranch game the score was tied 0-0 after two innings of play. The Bears led 1-0 after scoring a run in the bottom of the third inning. Neither team scored in the fourth inning and the score remained 1-0 Warren heading into the top of the fifth inning.

This is where things began to unravel for the Bears. West Ranch scored eight runs in the top of the fifth inning and Warren was held scoreless. The score was 8-1 after five innings

West Ranch continued their offensive outburst by scoring four more runs in the top of the sixth inning while Warren could not push a run across the plate in the bottom of the sixth inning. The score was now 12-1 West Ranch.

The Wildcats added two more runs in the top of the seventh inning and held the Bears scoreless in the bottom of the seventh inning to come away

In Memory of

Maria Lackey October 9, 1942 - May 13, 2019

Maria Esther Lackey, 76, was born on October 9, 1942 in El Paso, Texas to Arsenio and Mercedes Villegas and entered into eternal rest on May 13, 2019 in Downey, California.

Maria was a hard-working and strong woman who took care of everyone, and managed to still be the life of the party. She loved spending time with her family. If there was an event for the grandkids, she would be there at least two hours ahead of time. She wanted to be sure she had the best seats. Plus she enjoyed socializing with anyone and everyone around her. She would be sure to tell everyone about her grandkids. There wasn't anyone in Downey that didn't know about Amanda, Ryan, Blake, and Cole. She protected her family and when things were stressful she was always the first to say, "Everything's gonna be okay." It usually did turn out Ok, because she was there to fix it or help in every possible way.

If she wasn't buzzing around Downey delivering missing assignments or taxi'ing the boys, she was with her sister playing Bingo or with Craig at the casino. She enjoyed herself because there was laughter and stories and lots of silliness and antics taking place. Maria also had a love of sweets, there wasn't a cake or apple pie with ice cream or dessert of any sort that was safe when she was around. The last enjoyment I want to share about Maria is her pride and commitment to her job. She loved Downey Unified. She loved the friendships she created, she worked hard, took pride in her work, and wanted to do a great job. Her warm smile and her bright personality will be missed by so many.

Maria leaves behind her loving family: Husband, Craig Lackey, Daughter, Carmen Rodriguez (Luis), Daughter, Esther Brossmer (Roger), Son, Anthony Campos, Granddaughter, Amanda Rodriguez, Grandson, Ryan Rodriguez, Grandchildren, Blake Brossmer and Cole Brossmer, Siblings, Augustin Manuel Villegas, Arsenio Villegas Jr. (Olivia), Maria Anita Villegas numerous nieces and nephews, as well as several other family members and friends who loved her and will miss her dearly.

A rosary will be held for her on Tuesday, May 21, at 6:30 pm at Risher Montebello Mortuary, and a funeral mass on Wednesday, May 22, at 10:00 am at Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Downey, California. For more obituary information and to leave condolences for the family, please visit www. RisherMortuary.com 562-861-3888

Eyes on the Schools

By Nancy Swenson School Board President

Well, its mid-May and our schools are in the last leg of the school year. It's unbelievable how fast this year has gone. The students are busy testing, finishing up projects and making plans for summer break.

To be honest with everyone, this is the busiest and best time of the school year for me and my fellow Board members. This is the time when we are pleased to attend student scholarship and award nights, retirement parties, employee award ceremonies, plays and spring concerts, and est of all, our middle school promotion and high school graduation ceremonies. These vents celebrate the dedication of our students and their parents that have led them to these culmination ceremonies.

So, what's been going on you ask, and what's in store for the rest of May? Let me brag a little before we get to the events. You may have seen some of these announcements in other sections of The Downey Patriot, but they are worth repeating.

First, in honor of National Teacher Appreciation Week and Classified School Employees week that are this month, I want to celebrate our employees. I want to congratulate our Downey Unified Masonic Teachers of the Year: Lucy Atlas from Old River Elementary School, Kathleen Carter from Doty Middle School and John Glaister from Columbus High School.

We have four Classified (nonteaching) employees representing us as California Classified Employee of the Year finalists. Considering there were only a total of six people selected from Los Angeles County to move on to the State level, I think our entire classified employees deserve a big round of applause. Let's hear it for Bus Driver Sandra Jarquin, Utility Worker Jose Ramirez Rosales from Lewis and Imperial elementary schools, Food Service

Assistant Nelly Salinas from Warren High School and Campus Supervisor/Aide Miguel Sanchez from Griffiths Middle School.

How could I forget our students and their advisors that have worked so hard representing Downey Unified in the SkillsUSA Competitions this year. We have had students competing at the Regional and State levels from Warren and Downey high schools as well as Downey Adult School. The SkillsUSA State Competition was held over Spring Break this year and our students brought home 52 medals! Of those 52, 29 students who received gold medals will be traveling to Louisville, KY, over the summer to compete against students from across the country at the National Championship. There are over 15,000 chapters across the country and Downey Unified has traveled to the Nationals every year since we started competing in 2009. This competition gets students ready to step into the workforce. If you want more details about this program, you can read about it at www. skillsusa.org.

The HS Spring Concerts have been wonderful! This year Warren High School's (WHS) Spring Concert was dedicated to Stauffer MS band director, Todd Miller, who is retiring this year. Todd has worked for Downey Unified for 15 years with a little break in the middle, but as we know, all roads lead back to Downey.

The WHS band, under the direction of David Niemeyer, played many of Todd's favorite pieces including one of my personal favorite's "September" by Earth, Wind, and Fire. It was a wonderful night.

The Downey High School (DHS) Spring Concert led by Corneliu Olariu (Mr. O) and Raul Guerrero was as equally uplifting. They held a fundraiser that night and auctioned off the opportunity to take the lead and act as ensemble/band director. They had two winners and raised over $2,000. My favorite song of the evening was "The Flintstones." As a child, I loved watching that cartoon and it brought back so many fond memories.

I was also able to see the Doty Middle School Spring Concert on Monday and it was a great event. The 6:30 p.m. show was the beginning band, concert band and choir, and during the 8:00 p.m. show the advanced band, concert band and a combo of advanced and concert bands performed. All of these young musicians were led under the direction of Andrea Keen, whom I now believe is related to Superman. I will go into more detail about Doty's Spring Concert next month, I just wanted to quickly congratulate the Doty Knights and Andrea King for such amazing performances. Griffiths and Stauffer middle school still have upcoming Spring Concerts if you would like to attend.

I, along with my fellow Board members, have been to several award and recognition ceremonies this month with many more to come. I was pleased to attend the Gangs Out Of Downey (GOOD) Scholarship Dinner in honor of Ricky Galvez. That evening, two students from each of our three high schools were awarded $1,000 scholarships. The Downey Council PTA held their annual Scholarship Breakfast that I was lucky to be a part of. They selected 26 students to be awarded scholarships that included the California State PTA Scholarship, the Sally McFarland Scholarship and the Downey Council PTA Scholarship. I want to thank GOOD and Downey Council PTA for their continuous support of our students.

The WHS Golden Bear awards and the DHS Viking awards were also earlier this month, where teachers select outstanding students who excel in various categories such as Visual Arts, Mathematics and CHARACTER COUNTS! to name just a few. Students in each category are awarded a pin and/or a medallion and one student from each category is awarded a Golden Bear or Viking statue.

In the case of WHS, they also recognize a Grand Golden

Eyes on the Schools

Bear that is given to one student each year who best displays the finest all-around qualities in a WHS student.

The statues are beautiful to say the least and I'd just like to mention that if anyone from DHS or WHS has an extra one laying around, I am more than happy to display it at home to show my Viking and Bear pride.

I'm running out of space and I barely touched the surface of all that has been happening since my April edition. Next month I will be back with a recap of the end of the year. You will be amazed when you hear the total amount of scholarship money our wonderful local organizations and individuals awarded our graduates this

Also, as a heads up for the upcoming seniors of 2019-2020 who may be thinking of heading into community college after graduation, Cerritos College has a great plan that provides free tuition for two years!

Called the Cerritos Complete program, many of our current seniors have taken advantage of this great opportunity and I wanted to pass it along to anyone who is unaware.

Middle school promotions and high school graduations are coming up and we will proudly be shaking the hands of many of our students in just a few weeks. Before I close, I want to give special congratulations to my niece Marley Vesneski for promoting from Sussman MS and longtime family friend Raquel Rios for graduating from Downey HS at the end of this month.

I hope you can join me before the end of the school year at some of these upcoming events:

Griffiths MS Spring Concert - Tuesday, May 21st, 6 p.m.

Stauffer MS Spring Concert-Beginning Band, Tuesday,

May 21st, 6:30 p.m.

Advanced Band & Jazz Band, Wednesday May 22nd, 6:30 p.m.

WHS Play "Mrs. America" at WHS Emerson Theatre – Wednesday, May 22nd, Saturday, May 25th, both at 7:30 p.m. (I want to correct a mistake I made in my last edition. I accredited WHS construction teacher for creating the rotating platform that was built into the stage floor at WHS, when in actuality it was Drama teacher Kyle Deichman! My apologies and thank you for all you do for our students, Kyle.)

Most home sellers try and spruce up their home before they put it on the market, the problem is that the majority of them focus on the wrong things and overlook the things that make a difference to prospective buyers.

That's why I created my "Pre-Listing Walk Through", I will walk through your home and give you a list of the top things you can do to sell your home fast and for Top Dollar. I will tell you know what not to worry about so you don't waste time and money doing things that don't matter. My short walk through could mean tens of thousands of dollars more in your pocket when you do sell your home.

So call, text, or email me today to set up your free Pre-listing walk through. Call 562-743-2121, You'll be glad you did!
